Two days ago Lydia Fox, a sister-in-law of the deceased, came to Halifax and claimed the body of Stanley Fox, saying that she did this on behalf of the widow, Mrs. Cora Fox, of Rochester, who was ill at her houseand was one of the Titanic victims. The coroner and the agents of the White Star were so thoroughly convinced of the bona fide nature of the claim that they directed the body to be shipped and it was placed on the train which left last evening. Not all of the ceremonies to-morrow will be over unidentified dead, for the relatives of many that have been identified have found graves for them here.

The belief is that the cable ship minis, which is expected in port next Monday, has picked up practically all the bodies that remained to be found. The Minia's captain has been notified to refrain from sending word of any recoveries unless the newly-discovered bodies are identified.

The body of Geo. E. Graham, late European buyer for the Eaton firm, has been positively identified by his fother-in-law, Dr. Jackson. The body was in an excellent state of preservation.

PARIS POLICE OFFICIALS PREPARE FOR SIEGE

Survivors of Bonnot Gang Have Large Supply of Arms and Ammunition

Paris, May 2.-According to the Petit car bandits have taken refuge in a litthe pavilion not far from Paris, on the Eastern railway line. These survivors of the gang are armed, it is said, and have in addition to Winchester carbines and Brawn automatic pistols, a stock of bombs. The residents of the adjacent villas, the paper says, have been asked to move and the authorities, who are determined to capture the bandits without loss of life to the police, if possible, are preparing for a siege.

UNIQUE TRIBUTE TO TITANIC'S DEAD

Superior Court at Montreal

Montreal, May 2.—A unique tribute to the memory of the victims of the Montrealers, recovered from the scene of the Titanic wreck, H. J. Allison and Leopold Weiss, were claimed Tuesday. Arrangements were made to dispatch is the body of Mr. Allison at once to Chesterville, Ont., while the body of Leopold Weiss, a young Swiss sculptor, will be forwarded to Montreal. It had not been known that the body of Mr. Weiss had been recovered until the steamer Mackay-Bennett came into port, so there was n oone here to receive it. Yesterday, however, his friends in Montreal telegraphed to the great in the morning, the various judges of the Superior Court gathered in room 24, where Chief Justice Sir Meltourne Tait, speaking in the name of his colleagues of the Bench, paid a tribute to those who had perished a tribute to those who had perished a tribute to make the long journey to Halifax and there is much identification here for relatives mable to make the long journey to Halifax and there is much identification of the Bar by Gonzalve Desaulniers, K. A concert in aid of the fund which is being collected for the purpose of quitz hall under the direction of Capt. H. J. Rous Cullin, an excellent programme of songs being given by a number of Victoria artists. That these to its utmost capacity was demon-strated by the enthusiastic applause which greeted the several items on in a very fine baritone W. A. Jameson, whose delightful so-prano voice has been heard on several occasions in Saanich district and always just as heartily appreciated as was the case last evening for her artistic rendering of "Counsel to Nint" and "MacGregor's Gathering"; and T. Muirhead, whose sympathetic tenor voice was heard to advantage in Love's an Arbutus" and "Old Blac Mare." In addition to these solo nun duet, this being Pelissier's "I Want the Moon," a selection which was en-thusiastically encored. During the interval between the first nd second parts of the programme Percy James, layman at Colquitz, gave a short outline of the objects of the concert, which, as stated above, was for the purpose of adding to the fund for the new Anglican church which is to be built at Strawberry Vale. He stated that more than two thousand dollars had already been secured to-ward this end, and the Anglican synod had announced its intention of givin being used successfully in the decorations. 'CYCLONE'' DAYS OF Porky Flynn Best of Hopes.

According to Johnny Thompson, Porky Flynn is the best of the many will mark the opening "white hopes" that are now on the trail of the heavyweight champion-ship. In the Antipodes Flynn has developed into a fast, clean and aggressive fighter, and the chief reason why Thompson looks upon "Porky" as the best man to pit against Johnson is as follows: When fighting with Jim Barry Flynn obtained a decision at the end of twenty rounds. Immediately, afterwards Barry signed articles to fight Langford and McVey. He made both negroes look like novices at the game, and, therefore, Thompson thinks, Flynn is nursed along for three or four more years and continues as he is doing now he is the likelitest white man to win back the championship than anyone of whom I know."

and got a decision over him.

Thompson claims the middleweight championship as a result of his victory over Billy Papke, who claimed the belt after the death of Stanley Ketchell. It is only eighteen months ago since the "Cyclone" was fighting as a light-weight, When in Australia on his former trip he took on weight so rapidly that he could not get back into his former class without weakening, his physical strength. He then went after the middleweight title and claims he has it.

ikelitest white man to win back the championship than anyone of whom I know."

Fast Lightweight in Australia Thompson discovered that the fight promoters there had unearthed a likely looking lightweight in Hughle Mehegan. He holds the Australia championship, and is one of the classest fighters the Commonwealth has produced. Mehegan and fights in the American style, and is particularly good at infighting. Thompson thinks, that Hughle would give Ad Wolgasf a hard time if they were matched. Mehegan and Dave Smith will both leave Australia soon for a tour through the States and the United Kingdom.

Terry Kellar, the 'Frisco middles' weight, whom Thompson has been keeping under his wing for some time, I going along nicely in Australia.

BERNHARDT AS A COLLECTOR

Mine. Sarah Bernhardt, the great actress, has shown herself in a new role by coming into the auditorium during one of the entractes of "L'Aisjon" at her theatre and taking round a plate collecting for the National Aeropiane Fund. Such an innovation was naturally not without success, and when Mme. Bernhardt appeared in the orchestra, slim and elegant in her costume of white and gold, the audience at the matinee, largely composed of French schoolsgirths applauded her final tirade just before the curtain went down. Other artists followed her, and very rapidly the collection plate was filled. The fund now amounts to nearly £36,000.

Princess Patricia Has Burners Adjusted — Everything Worked to Perfection

Seattle, May 2.—As the steel whaling steamer Kodiak was being launched at the yards of J. F. Duisie & Company in the cast waterway yesterday, the cradle in which she rested was fouled by a line and the timbers collapsed, dropping the vessel on the end of the ways. The weight of the vessel caused the timbers to part, wedging the vessel in tightly between them.

The Kodiak's siter ship, the Unimak, and two towboats tugged at the vessel for over an hour and finally efforts to free her were abandoned until high tide to-day, when it is hoped she may be freed from the timber trap into which she fell as she struck the water. The Kodiak's is for the Alaska Whaling Company, and will be operated from the company's whaling station just at Yucatan Pass.

Now that the Patricia is equipped with oil, Chief Engineer Anderson believes the Patricia will show greater speed than ever. She will be able to maintain a steady steam pressure and as a result will be capable of being driven at a faster speed. While the Patricia has been laid up since her arrival from the Ciyde the machinery of the steamer has been carefully overhauled by Mr. Anderson and his assistants. Montreal, May 2.—The directors of the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Company at a meeting yesterday ap-proved the offer made to the share-holders of the Niagara Navigation Company, the terms of which were an-nounced recently.

Company, the terms of which were announced recently.

The meeting lasted about four hours and the presumption was that a large part of the time was devoted to discussion of the deal pending with the International Inland Lines. As to this, the directors were reticent, but it was stated that the expectation was that negotiations with the inland interests would be completed in the course of a few weeks. The directors passed a resolution expressing sincere sympathy with the family of the late H. Markhund Molson, who was a member of the board.

Representative Washington Wants to Squeeze Out C. P. R. in Trade

Washington, D. C., May 2,-Representative Humphreys, of Washington state, to-day secured a favorable recommendation from the House merchant marine committee on a bill in-tended to stop foreign vessels from carrying on coastwise trade between Seattle and Alaska. The bill provides that "no passengers shall be carried by water to or from any port in the United States, to or from any port or place in Alaska, either directly or by a foreign port, except in a vessel or vessels of the United States."

Mr. Humphreys showed the commit-tee that foreign vessels now take pass-engers to Vancouver, where they can stop, take another foreign vessel and the first organized run of the Autor bile Association this season that the weather god will deign to smile kindly on the enterprise and give fair roads and fairer skies. The large party of something like fifty cars which will leave Victoria in the early dawn on Saturday will pass through the more familiar environs of the city within a tew minutes, and will probably reach the first really scenic point on the road when the long shadows still lie dark on the waters of Saanich Inlet; this the Malahat Drive, is a giprious piece of road, and winds steadily up and up the face of the hillside, through an ever sheltering metwork of pla and dogwood, then dip down-into the inlet ever deeper, and aling more beautiful panoramas as higher elevations of the windin: road are reached. Some of the glimps load are reached. Some of the gimpses across the awaters of the inlet with the jutting points of heavily timbered land and the distant islands of the straits floating fairy-like in the haze of an early summer day, if the elements are favorable, will be one of the memor-able pictures of the drive for those who go over this for the first time. The Malahat Drive is about thirty niles in length, comprising the rut down the Goldstream and the climb up the long hill at the side of Finlayson arm until the extreme elevation of 1,276 feet is finally reached, then passing the summit, dropping slowly again to the level of the water at the point commonly known as Mill Bay or Saanich Lagoon. Working inland now, the road again ascends to Cobble Hill, running for a short distance on the same elevation as the E. & N. rail-way, from Cobble Hill descending again through heavily timbered coun-try—so heavily timbered, in fact that the road, the narrow pathway carved year, and the least suited for me toring on this account of any of the oad along the Island route. However this section is now undergoing con-siderable improvement, and before the next wet season approaches will be able to bear its reputation with motor ists against any part of the highway

Mr. Corrigan suitably acknowledged the gift.

The Evening Chit-Chat

The season for spring cleaning is at hand. Now, I am not one of those reformers who believe that all-the-year-round cleanliness would eliminate the necessity for such a festival. Indeed no. On the contrary, tolieve in more ulus in that di-rection. I refer to something quite different.

Why should we feel that our houses are the only things that need spring cleaning? Our houses are not our whole lives, only the setting for them. What about our bodies and minds and souls? Ninety-nine times out of one hundred they need a spring cleaning infinitely more than the worst catch-all closet.

spring cleaning infinitely more than the worst catch-all closet.

If you don't believe that, Mrs. Housekeeper, please wrench your mind away from the condition of the livingroom hansfings, and consider with me for a few moments the condition of yourself. Take your body first. What about your skin? Is it as clear to-day as it was five years ago, and as it might be to-day if you gave if proper attention and enough fresh air? Then, how about your carriage? Don't those stooping shoulders of yours need a spring renovation as much as the dining-room rug? And what about your inward workings? Are they in the condition they should be to make you as close as possible to 100 per cent. efficient? When you have your house cleaning all done, you will say with a sigh, "How nice it does seem to live in a clean and orderly house." Would there not be as much happiness in living in an efficient and well ordered body, thoroughly clean not only outside but also within?

And then your mind? How about what about your carriage?

Would there not be as much happiness in living in an efficient and well ordered body, thoroughly clean not only outside but also within?

And then your mind? How about that? Is there any stagnation there which needs a spring freshet to sweep it away? Are you reading anything, worth-while? Do you look for the real news in the newspapers? Are you interested in anything at all outside your daily routine? Perhaps your mind does not need any spring cleaning. I don't know about that? But that are much exposed to winds and changing teming.

And then there's the rest of you that doesn't come under the heading of either mind or body. What about that either mind or body. What about that part of your life? Don't some of those neglected friendships need dusting as much as the picture moulding in the parlor? And those good resolutions which you made New Year's day; of course, they ought not to need any

Miss Cameron's lecture concluded with an outline story of the return fourney, and a map of British Columbia, thrown on the screen with Great Britain snusfy ensconced therein—a mark of what may be done with the great area on the Pacific Coast as compared with the Mother Country. The door receipts of the evening amply justified the giving of such a lecture for such a cause—in addition to which a large audience had enjoyed a delightful evening touring the far north in the company of a gifted narrator whose observant eyes had never failed to take in every object of interest.

dent of the C.P.R. and superintendent of the matural resources department, who is in town, stated yesterday that it was the object of the C.P.R. to establish twenty-five farms which are to be devoted to grain-growing, dairy farming, poultry, and hog raising, and other branches of general farm work. These farms will be divided up among the several provinces of Manitola, Saskatchewan and Alberta, while, a similar scheme may be looked for in British Columbia in the near futura. The idea of the scheme, according to Mr. Dennis, is to prove to farmers that mixed farming will produce as satisfactory results as straight graingrowing; also it was necessary to encourage the best style of agriculture in the Wastern provinces to give these an ampler sphere of production. The company will devote half a million dollars to the acheme.

There will be $25,000,000 worth of motor cars in the big Detroit parade, led by the latest creation of the automobile capital—the Detroiter, made by the Briggs-Detroiter Co., composed of Claude S. Briggs, Emil Moesaner and John A. Boyle. They were formerly prominent cogs in the U. S. Motors Co.

It is only natural that Detroit should hold the biggest automobile parade ever staged, since 50 per cent, of the American cars are made in Detroit. And the Detroit manufacturers are all signifying their intention of putting vast numbers of their cars into the parade to help along the big work.

It may be mentioned that Mr. Gadsby earned considerable reputation in his university for his classical knowledge, in which he obtained first class honors when he graduated. S. K. Nainoa, Wife and Cousin, Arrived From Honolulu Aboard Liner Marama

It is very seldom that natives of the Hawaiian Islands ever take a trip abroad to see what the rest of the world looks like, and when three of hese swarthy personages walked down the gangplank from the Australian liner Marama yesterday afternoon the liner Marama yesterday afternoon they attracted considerable attention. S. K. Nainea, accompanied by his wife and cousin, made the voyage from Honolulu on the Marama and if funds hold out they expect to get back to their home via San Francisco. They are spending a day to look over Victoria and will depart, for Seattle at 4.30 clock this afternoon. clock this afternoon.

It is evident that the natives of the mid-Pacific islands have advanced from their primitive state very rapidly in the past few years. Mr. Naines was decked out in a suit of the latest American cut, and the style of headgear which he wore has not yet reached Victoria. The two ladies both were dressed in navy blue tailored suits and their hats represented a considerable outlay. Mr. Naine is typical of his race, his broad shoulders, deep chest and powerful limbs showing him to be a man of great strength, and the way he juggled about his heavy trunk was a revelation to the many baggage-smashers who stood by. too the many baggage-smashers tood by.

Asked if they would give any concerts, Mr. Nainea replied that they were on purely a pleasure trip and they would only perform at the hotels for the ent of their friends and themamisement of their triends and them-selves. They exhibited a number of their native instruments, which are artistic pieces of work capable of pro-ducing delightful harmony. Asked why more of the young men of the islands did not journey away from the island Mr. Nations said that it was

I want the right to burn my own I want the right to burn my own ingers, bump my own head, eat indigestible food, and do the whole range of silly and senseless things. Only when I am at perfect liberty to sear, scratch, smash and ruin my life, only then am I capable of triumph, power and goodness.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin."

"Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Stetson's great double spectacular production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is booked for Victoria theatre to-night. This grand old drama has been mercilessly butchered by the "fly-by-night" companies in the past. It is a marvel that it has not long before this lost its power of attracting theatre-goers, which is quite often the case with most plays, and even so with productions other than Stetson's, but the public has grown to know that Stetson's is always reliable, that it alone has lifted "Uncle Tom's Cabin" from mediocrity to mastery. In short, it is the only company presenting this time-honored drama with capital enough to provide sufficient scenery, people and equipments to place it among the best entertainments before the public. Stetson is the only one presenting the drama as a first-class show should be environed and equipped. And no more enjoyable entertainment will be seen in the local bouse than this. Over fifty people are pathos, all classes of amusement seek atnos, al classes of annocinem seek-rs will be entertained. Specialities alore, wonderful mechanical effects, ew costumes, a splendid orchestra, a crige pack of Siberian bloodhounds. The street parade will delight every

The Empress Theatre.

Willard, the Man who Grows, who is mystifying the audiences at the Emipress theatre this week was taken by Manager Wisner to the police head-quarters and underwent the Bertillon height measurement and performed some startling stunts which puzzled the men in blue. He was the only man who has appeared before the police with whom the Bertillon system proved unsuccessful. It was found that his height varied from two to six inches, after which their efforts to obtain his correct height were abandoned.

Willard was surrounded by a party of policemen in the barracks and they crowded about him in close scrutiny, seeking to solve the mystery of his manner of suddenly adding to his height. First one and then another looked him over and Willard would, amid laughter, start to grow until he was head and shoulders above the officer next to him. Then, as the constables watched with eager eyes he would slowly decline to his normal size egain. It was a highly amusing and mystifying time for the policemen.

Nowhere is the deep wisdom and justice of the Creator more apparent than in his so arranging the Universe that a man can do his own sinning. We cannot see that the supreme privilege of freedom is freedom to do wrong. Take that away, and a man becomes non-moral. Virtue is of account onig in one who might have chosen vice. We learn more by our own mistakes than by any other means. Let a man always succeed, and he will remain a child, ignorant, egotistic, unsympathetic and cruel.

Our growth, character, enjoyment of life come from our mistakes. A child that is not permitted to fail will never learn to walk; for walking is a succession of falls.

In our eagerness to make our children successful we rob them of the very foundation of success, which is left after a hundred failures. We are so anxious to have them happy that we take from them the 'key to happiness, which is the privilege of making themselves and others miserable.

MARKET WEAKER July Option Declines One Cent., Awaiting Reports on Kansas Crop Conditions

Chicago, May 2.—The trading market in wheat for the day lacked any bull initiative, and was generally weaker, July option selling off one cent. Sentiment hangs on what has yet to be recounted in regard to Kansas damage reports. All the best observers agree that the abandoned acreage for that state will prove...very, large, but it is in spots and hard to estimate. Foreigners seem to view the buying on this side at overdone and have taken considerable stock in the improved reports fellowing the rains. Interest centres on the buying side of the market, but until the official figures on the abandoned acreage are known it will probably be a market full of sharp turns either way.

Many of the cash and elevator people in coru, who made sales months ago, have been gradually covering in the open market because of the small supply of contract stuff, and the stiff price for the cash article. Supplies will grow less during the spring and summer months. This keeps the early months in a tight position, and imparts a strong commercial value. Selling of September was the feature of the out market.

RETURNS TO OTTAWA.

Ottawa, May 2.—Rt. Hon. R. L. Bor Ottawa, May 2.—Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden returned yesterday from his holiday at Hot Springs, Va. The premier's vacation has benefited him considerably. He will remain in Ottawa for a time, during which a number of pressing matters now before the council will be disposed of. It is likely that he will cross the Atlantic some time during the summer, but his plans in this regard have not been completed.

Promoter of Alberta & Great Waterways Railway Prepares to Appeal

moter of the Alberta & Great Water winnipeg, May 2.— J. J. Golden, deputy minister of agriculture, says that but 34 per cent of ploughing for spring seeding has been done in Manitoba, as compared with 34 at this time last year. Seeding will consequently be late, but conditions are fine. The late harvest and early freeze-up are the principal causes of backward ploughing. As compared with Saskatchewan but little new land was broken last summer in this province and prospects are for decreased acreage seeded to wheat.

CALGARY UNIVERSITY.

Calgary, Alta., May 2.—Dr. Mack Eastman, an eminent young Canadian scholar and teacher, has been invited to accept the chair in history in the University of Calgary. It is the first call to the teaching staff of the local university that has been issued. No reply from Dr. Eastman has yet been received, but it is confidently expected that he will accept the appointment. Calgary, Alta., May 2.-Dr. Mack

RUN OVER BY TRACTION ENGINE.

Calgary, Alta., May 2.—Charles C.
Parrish, late of Stockton, California, was killed north of Bassano.
The deceased was employed as engineer on a steam plough by Mr.
Daniels, of Bassano, and in some unaccountable way was run over by the heavy traction engine, death being instantaneous.

Colquitz Heights

We sold an acre of this property yesterday. It is was bought for a country home. One-third of it is high, level, splendid ground. The house and grounds will be located on this. The balance slopes away easily to the bottom land along the Colquitz. Half of this portion is beautifully wooded, and will be made a natural park. The other half is a grass plot through which flows the waters of the Colquitz. Can you imagine anything more ideal? They will have the pleasure of this home until it is demanded for city lots. Then they will realize the true value of their investment.

There are still a few selections like this in Colquitz Heights at from $375 to $750 per half acre.

It will be served by the Saanich suburban.

next day he complained of intense pains in the throat when he attempted to swallow. Two days later he was ill, and a doctor found him suffering from congestion of the lungs. Mr. Pellatt died suddenly the next morning. A doctor explained that the post-mortem revealed in the upper part of the tube from the mouth to the throat, a piece of bone embedded in the walls. It was in such a position that it could not be seen, and instruments would pass it because it had gone into the tissue. WITHOUT ORIENTALS POPULATION 55,959

ESTIMATED INCREASE

IN NEW DIRECTORY

Greater Victoria More Than Doubled in Four Years According to Current Issue

The fifteenth edition of Henders Victoria city directory and Vancouver Island gazetteer, just issued, gives the population of Greater Victoria, ex-clusive of Oriental residents, as 55,959, and in this estimate takes in Esqui-mait, Oak Bay, the Saanich munici-pality, and all the districts adjacent to the city embracing Greater Victoria. There is special mention made in the introduction of the directory to the ef-fect that the publishers have not pubished a census, but that in followin the usual custom of directory pub-lishers in estimating the population of the ground covered in the edition they have used the multiple of 2.75, considering it conservative.

The volume contains 20,349 individual names, which multiplied by 2.75 gives the total named. The volume is-sued by the company in 1998 gives 9,348 individual names, which by the sys-tem of using the 2.75 multiple accounts individual names, which by the system of using the 2.75 multiple accounts for a population then of 27,357, which compared with the figures given in the present issue shows that there has been an increase in the population of Victoria in four years of 23,502, meaning that the population has more than doubled in that short period of time. The number of business firms and companies given in the present issue of the directory is 1,281, being 91 more than in the directory of four years ago. A similar increase is shown by a comparison of the pages devoted to listing building blocks, public buildings, halls, etc., and the general advance of the city commercially is shown in no better way than by a comparison of the advertising sections of both directories. The directory of four years ago, being similar in measurement, contained 542 pages, while that now issued contains 884, extensively filled with advertising from all the merchants, and professional and business.

that the official figures were incom-plete was based on fact is proved by the figures issued in the new direc-tory, and it can be conceded that Creater Victoria now has a population of 65,000 people.

Mr. Thompson had said there was no meat or bone in the soup. The coroner said there must have been meat used On the Marama, which arrived here On the Marama, which arrived here from Sydney yesterday was one of the best known oarsmen and rowing coaches the great southern Commonwealth has produced, in the person of George Upward. Mr. Upward is on his way to the Olympic Games in Sweden, and at Stockholm expects to see the representative Australian eight in action, exhibiting those principles of rowing for which he has struggled for recognition through thirty years. in the stew.

A juror said he would suggest that it was a mutton bone that was found.

The coroner said there was no doubt of that. The house physician at the hospital said that if Mr. Pellatt had told them that he had swallowed a piece of bone the X-rays would have been used. Instead, he said that it was parsnip, and was treated accordingly.

for which he has struggled for recognition through thirty years.

Ity.

His association with rowing goes back to the old Geelong club, and a place with the crew of the Corle Bay club in 1875, but although he took part in races during the next four years, it was not till 1879 that he read Woodate's celebrated work on "Oars and Sculls and How to Use Them," and then he saw a revolution might be effected in the art of rowing. Real estate agents, you can get a car at a moment's notice by phoning 2310, auto stand, corner Fort and Douglas.

This system, which he termed the application of science to the use of physical and manual power he was successful in having generally introduced. He saw this system adopted gradually in Victoria, then in New South Wales, in 1903, and afterwards in Tasimania two years later. Mr. Upward stroked the Victorian crew in 1890, which was victorious, and was associated with a score of crews since then in many successes. He also assisted in the introduction of the Woodgate system into many universities and colleges. He coached successfully, and has the pleasure of knowing that the man who will be mainly successful for the Australian team when it makes its appearance in Stockholm, Mr. Middleton, is a believer in his system, and appearance in Stockholm, Mr. Middle-ton, is a believer in his system, and has used it very profitably. Mr. Up-ward will be able to realize in this trip one of the ambitions of his life, in the opportunity of seeing the great re-gatta at Henley-on-Thames, and also Arnst and Barry rowing for the cham-planeths are seeing this time of pionship once again, this time on the Thames.

Although it is many years since Mr. Upward was able to take part in active rowing, he is just as interested as ever in the progress of the great sport, and is looking forward with keen anticipation to his trip to England to see these attractions in the rowing world. He is very confident of the success of the Australian eight at the Olympic games. In private life Mr. Upward is clerk assistant of the Commonwealth Senate, and has been for over thirty years in the public service of Australia.
